P C200W

Printer

Compact home printer delivers a business-like performance

Compact, easy to use and utterly dependable, the P C200W from Ricoh is the ideal solution for the home office. Printing at speeds of up to 24 pages a minute in full colour, it will save time and space.

Its WiFi wizard makes set up simple, and with mobile printing a standard feature, home workers can print from a variety of settings. Indeed, printing could not be easier. With a powerful multi core processor and 512MB of memory on board, large files are handled with ease.

With the printer measuring just 411mm (wide) by 394mm (deep), space should not be an issue. Indeed, wirelessly connected and with its paper and delivery trays easily accessible from the front of the machine, the P C200W can even be positioned on a shelf or in cupboard.

To reduce print costs, the P C200W supports the use of high yield all-in-one (AIO) print cartridges. And, to save paper, duplex printing is a standard feature.

The Ricoh Support Station offers a smooth and straightforward user experience for MFP/P devices located outside the general office, by providing easy access to device support and troubleshooting. With our commitment to seamless device use, you can enjoy virtually the same user device experience from any location – whether you are in or out of the office environment.

- Compact print solution, perfect for small offices and home workers.
